

Humans could learn a lesson about teamwork from ants, or about self-defense from a porcupine. What's another lesson you think humans could learn from an animal?

Which type of animal would make the best president?

If you were a squirrel, where would be the best hiding places in your neighborhood to store your acorns during the winter?

Imagine you went to a superhero pet store! Which type of pet would you get? What would their superpower be?

You have to spend the day as a little mouse living in the big city. What is the worst part of your day? What's the best part?

If you could ask a great white shark one question and get an answer, what would you want to know?

If you could have one attribute an animal has, what would you pick and why?

If you had a parrot, what's something funny you could teach it to say?

You just started your own farm! What food do you grow, what animals live on your farm, and how do you keep the animals from eating the food?

Imagine that your favorite type of animal has become endangered. What are some things you could do to help prevent them from going extinct?

If you could be a dinosaur, what kind would you want to be and what would you do all day?

What would you do if you came home to find a herd of goats inside your house?

If you could read animals' thoughts, what animal's mind would you read first? What do you think you would find out?

Imagine that everyone else in your house turned into dogs for a day! What would you do? What kind of dog do you think each person would be?

Do you think insects have dreams? What would they dream about?

If you were to open a petting zoo, what would be the coolest animal you would keep there?

If your voice was replaced by an animal sound for the next hour, which animal sound would you choose and why?

What do you think the world would be like today if dinosaurs were still around?

Why do you think an octopus has eight legs? How would your life be different if you had eight legs?

Imagine you're as small as a bug, and just got caught in a spider's web! What does it feel like? How will you escape?

If you could change the color of any animal, which animal would you pick and what color would you choose?

When planting flowers in your garden, you find a nest with a rainbow-colored egg in it. What hatches out of it?

Imagine a bee talking to a butterfly. What would they say to each other?

If you could have any wild animal as a pet, which would you choose and why?