

You've invented a new sustainable food product called InstaYum. What are the ingredients?

It's the year 3000 and your spaceship is being chased by pirates. What futuristic treasure are they after? Why is it so valuable?

You just heard about a new invention that will change how we live! It's called a betagamma. What does it look like and what does it do?

Make up a story that's only one sentence long. How does it go?

If you were part of the circus, what part would you play and what would your costume look like?

You get to open your own theme park! What do you call it? What is the best ride or attraction there?

You just discovered a secret tunnel in your neighborhood! Where is it's hidden entrance? Where does it lead?

What fruit or vegetable do you think you could turn into a musical instrument? How would it work and what would it sound like?

If you could change the sky to a different color, what would you pick and why?

You just discovered a new species of bird! What does it look like? What do you call it?

Imagine you could clone yourself. What would you do with your extra self?

You just found a bottle washed up on the beach with a note inside! What does it say, and where did it come from?

You just found out that your name means something funny in an alien space language! What does it mean?

If you could rename any major world landmark (like the Eiffel Tower or the Great Pyramid) which monument would you pick, and what would you name it?

You wake up one morning and look in the mirror to discover that you've transformed overnight! What do you look like now?

Imagine that you have the power to create someone's dreams while they sleep! Who do you pick to use your power on, and what dream do you give them?

If you could add anything to a bicycle to make it faster, cooler or more fun, what would you modify it with?

What are things you can read other than books? See how many things you can name, or take turns giving examples with someone and see who can think of the most!

If you had to live in a board game, which one would you want it to be? What would your house there look like?

If you had your own factory, what would it make? What kinds of equipment would you need there?

What do you think is the most mysterious thing we might discover at the bottom of the ocean?

You just discovered the secret that your bedroom closet is actually a portal to another world. What does that world look like and who lives there?

You just dug up a new type of ancient fossil in your backyard! What does it look like and what do you call the creature it belonged to?

If you wanted to create a work of art that made people want to protect the environment, what would you use to make it? What would it look like?

Aliens have landed on Earth and you have the chance to ask them one question about their world. What do you ask them?
Bonus: Make up their answer!

What's the first law you'd make up if you were ruler of the whole world for one day?

Imagine that you get to design and build your dream home. Where is it? What special features does it have?

If you could add anything to the sky — alongside clouds, the sun, the moon, and the stars — what would you put up there?

There's a brand new team sport called hovertwist! It involves jump ropes and a frisbee. How is it played?

Roses are red,
violets are blue,
I didn't finish writing this poem, can you?
What amazing ending can you come up with for a poem that starts with,
"roses are red,
violets are blue...?"

The mayor wants ideas about what to do with all the old, empty buildings downtown. What brilliant idea will you suggest?

It's time for Nature to change the colors of the sky, grass, snow, and everything else—and you get to help! What will be your new color scheme?

You've been asked to help plan a great new summer camp. What's different about yours that will make loads of kids want to go?

If you could make any imaginary creature real, which one would you pick and why?

You've inherited a ruined castle in Germany. It's too expensive to fix up and nobody wants to buy it. What on earth can you do with it?

If you could design your own school, what would it look like? How would it be the same as or different from your current school?

If you were in a Pride parade, how would you decorate your float?

Someone just gave you a huge box full of pennies and said you can do whatever you want EXCEPT spend them. What will you do with them?

Imagine you're a giant. What job do you think you'd be good at? How do you think people would react to you?

Invent a new dance move! What does it look like?

If you could add one room to your home, what kind of a room would it be and what would you put in it?

If you got to design a fun new t-shirt, what would you draw or write on it and why?

You've just found out that you have a superpower that can only be used for ten minutes a day. What superpower is it? When do you use it?

Your skin can now change colors and patterns like a chameleon! What colors and patterns would you change into and why?

You've just invented a robot that can do some amazing things. What is its name? What is one of the things you teach it to do?

If you could design wings and attach them to your body, what would you make them out of and what would they look like?

If you were invisible for a week, what would you do?

What are some ways you can save water in your own home?